

GADOACV5

Apple Cider Vinegar (ACV) has been used to promote health and well-being for centuries. Enzymes found in ACV help support the growth of good gut bacteria which is important for digestion and a healthy immune system.

Studies suggest that ACV, in conjunction with a well-balanced diet, supports healthy weight management. ACV contains natural acids and enzymes that help to reduce appetite and increase the feeling of fullness. In addition, ACV supports a healthy cardiovascular system by helping to maintain good cholesterol levels. GBi developed a special drying process to convert natural ACV into a powder without damaging the natural ingredients thus enabling incorporation to a comfortable dosage form.
